Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe Names New Director of Communications Allyson Doctor Brings 15 Years of Experience Home

Akwesasne – The Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe announces the new Director of Communications, Allyson (Mitchell) Doctor. She brings us 15 years of strategic development and operations experience, most recently as an Assistant Vice President at Carolinas HealthCare System in Charlotte, North Carolina. “We are happy to have her working with us, returning home and supporting Akwesasne,” states Chief Paul Thompson.

As Director of Communications, she will be responsible for the coordination of all public information and public relations efforts on behalf of the Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe. “I’m honored to be working for the community that raised me. My job is to ensure our people have timely access to information and to develop a deeper understanding of how we can work together to strengthen our community for future generations.”

She received her BA from SUNY Oswego and is pursuing her MS in Health Communications from Boston University. Allyson is a member of the Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe and is the daughter of the late William “Buster” Mitchell and Marie Mitchell, who resides in South Carolina. She lives in Lake Placid with her husband Jeff and their daughter, Chloe.
